

Once upon a time there were three little pigs who lived with their mother.

The first pig made his house from straw.

The second pig made his house from sticks.

The third pig made his house from bricks.

Just as the wolf was coming down the chimney the pigs took the cover off the boiling pot.

In fell the wolf. He shot back up the chimney and ran all the way home.

The three little pigs lived happily ever after.