How to find us...

Chichén Itzá can be reached by public transport from nearby Merida or Valladolid, as well as from the tourist centres of Cancun and Playa del Carmen. There is ample parking for those looking to self-drive or hire a driver. Doing so allows you to arrive before the large tour buses and get in before the crowds.

The Spectacular Site of Chichén-Itzá

Are you fed up of going on the same holidays where you lounge around all day by the pool or at the beach? Then head straight to Chichén-Itzá where you are guaranteed the time of your life! This is a majestic, ancient Maya

Deep in the Mexican state of Yucatá

it's a journey back in time, an entire ancient civilisation waiting to be discovered! From the moment you arrive, you will be amazed by its beauty and the stories that are brought back to life, you will never want to leave!

ruins, which has captured the world's imagination and is the 2nd most visited archaeological site of Mexico today. Chichén-Itzá is more than just an archaeological site,

Pyramid of Peril

El Castillo (the castle)

Ancient gods, sacred rituals and 365 stone steps, all within the awesome temple known as 'The Castle', explore an insanely high pyramid at 23 metres tall, until the sun goes down... but watch out for the shadow of the slithering serpent. Find out how they worshipped the ancient god - Kukulcan, the feathered serpent. The stunning El Castillo will take your breath away as you watch the legend of the 'descent of Kukulcan' unfold before your very eyes and this mysterious wonder of the world takes you back in time to 1500 years ago!

A Gruesome Game

Whilst the adults wander around in amazement, there is plenty for children to enjoy. Located deep in the heart of the ruins, is the incredible ball court, measuring a whopping 554 feet in length. It was here that the Maya played an ancient ball game, but I wouldn't recommend playing it when you visit... the losers were sacrificed to the gods.

Overall, Chichen Itza is the number one choice for the entire family. The Temple of the Warriors is one of the most impressive and important structures at Chichen Itza. The temple consists of four platforms, flanked on the south, truly a sight to behold.
