Thursday - Reading

1. Read or listen to the text Chapter 14.
2. Write down any words that you are unsure of.

Quick quiz

- Are the yellow butterflies significant? Why?
- If you were Max, what would you think of Hermanjilio's revelation about his parents?

Quick quiz

- Chan Kan told Max that the yellow butterflies were trapped souls, so maybe they symbolise his missing parents, or perhaps it is his destiny to free them.
- I would find it hard to believe that they just vanished. Hermanjilio seems like a genuine person, but I would find it hard to believe him and would think he was hiding something.

Writing Persuasively

You are going to write persuasive phrases and sentences to use in your leaflet for Chichen Itza. Below are some examples that I have written to help you.

Writing Persuasively

- Alliteration
- Facts
- Opinions
- Rhetorical questions
- Emotive language
- Statistics/ speech
- Triple/ power of three

Alliteration

Serpent shadows slithering down the steps.

Emotive language

An awesome cenote, like a spectacular treasure trove filled with shell, jade, wood, obsidian, cloth and gold and even human skeletons from the ancient Maya. Such a sacred place that it became a place of pilgrimage and is one not to be missed.

Rhetorical questions

How could you miss the opportunity to see the awesome Kukulcan Pyramid, with its moving snake shadows?

Threes/ triple

Tzompantli, the wall of skulls was where the heads of sacrificial victims were placed. There are also beautiful carvings showing human sacrifice, eagles eating human hearts and skeleton warriors with shields and arrows.
